OUR SCHOOL

The modern structure of red brick that is now Bay High has two divisions. The main building contains the following departments - English, Commercial, Home Economics, Mathematics, History, Science and Spanish. The auditorium, library, lunchroom, conference room, Student Prints Office, administrative offices, and several grammar school classrooms are also in the main building. In the annex are the band department, seven grammar school classrooms, music studio, gymnasium (the largest and best on the coast), dressing rooms with ample shower facilities, and offices for the Physical Education Departments.

Before 1926 Bay High was just a two-story wooden building with an enrollment of thirty-eight. Today our high school department has an enrollment of one hundred and sixty students.

Our superintendent, Mr. S. J. Ingram, who has been in charge of the public schools in Bay Saint Louis since 1926, is largely responsible for the rapid advancement of Bay High - its improved buildings and equipment, broadened course of study, progressive methods, extracurricular activities, well-qualified faculty, and its high standing as a fully accredited high school in the state and in the Southern Association of Secondary Schools.

Dedication to Miss Blaise ~ in thanks and appreciation....

... for her many contributions to Bay High.

Foreword

No book about Bay High could be really complete; too many of the pictures we have of our school are in our minds and hearts only. But we, the staff, have attempted to include those things which will in later years stimulate memories of our school as we know and love her ...

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

Vocational training plays an important role at Bay High. Our vocational branch includes commercial studies, home economics, and mechanics.

The commercial department offers typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping as a groundwork for those students interested in continuing their work in a business college. This year Mrs. A.B. Dubuisson replaced Miss Elizabeth Harrington, former commercial teacher. Under Mrs. Dubuisson's guidance, several awards have been earned for excellence of work in typing and shorthand II.

Miss Dorothy Skellie, our new head of the Home Economics Department, has interested many of her students in continuing an intensive study of the subject. Every six weeks each girl chooses some branch of home economics which especially interests her, and learns about it by application in a home project which is reported on at the end of the term. The classes study economy in buying and preparing wholesome food, clothesmaking, and interior design.

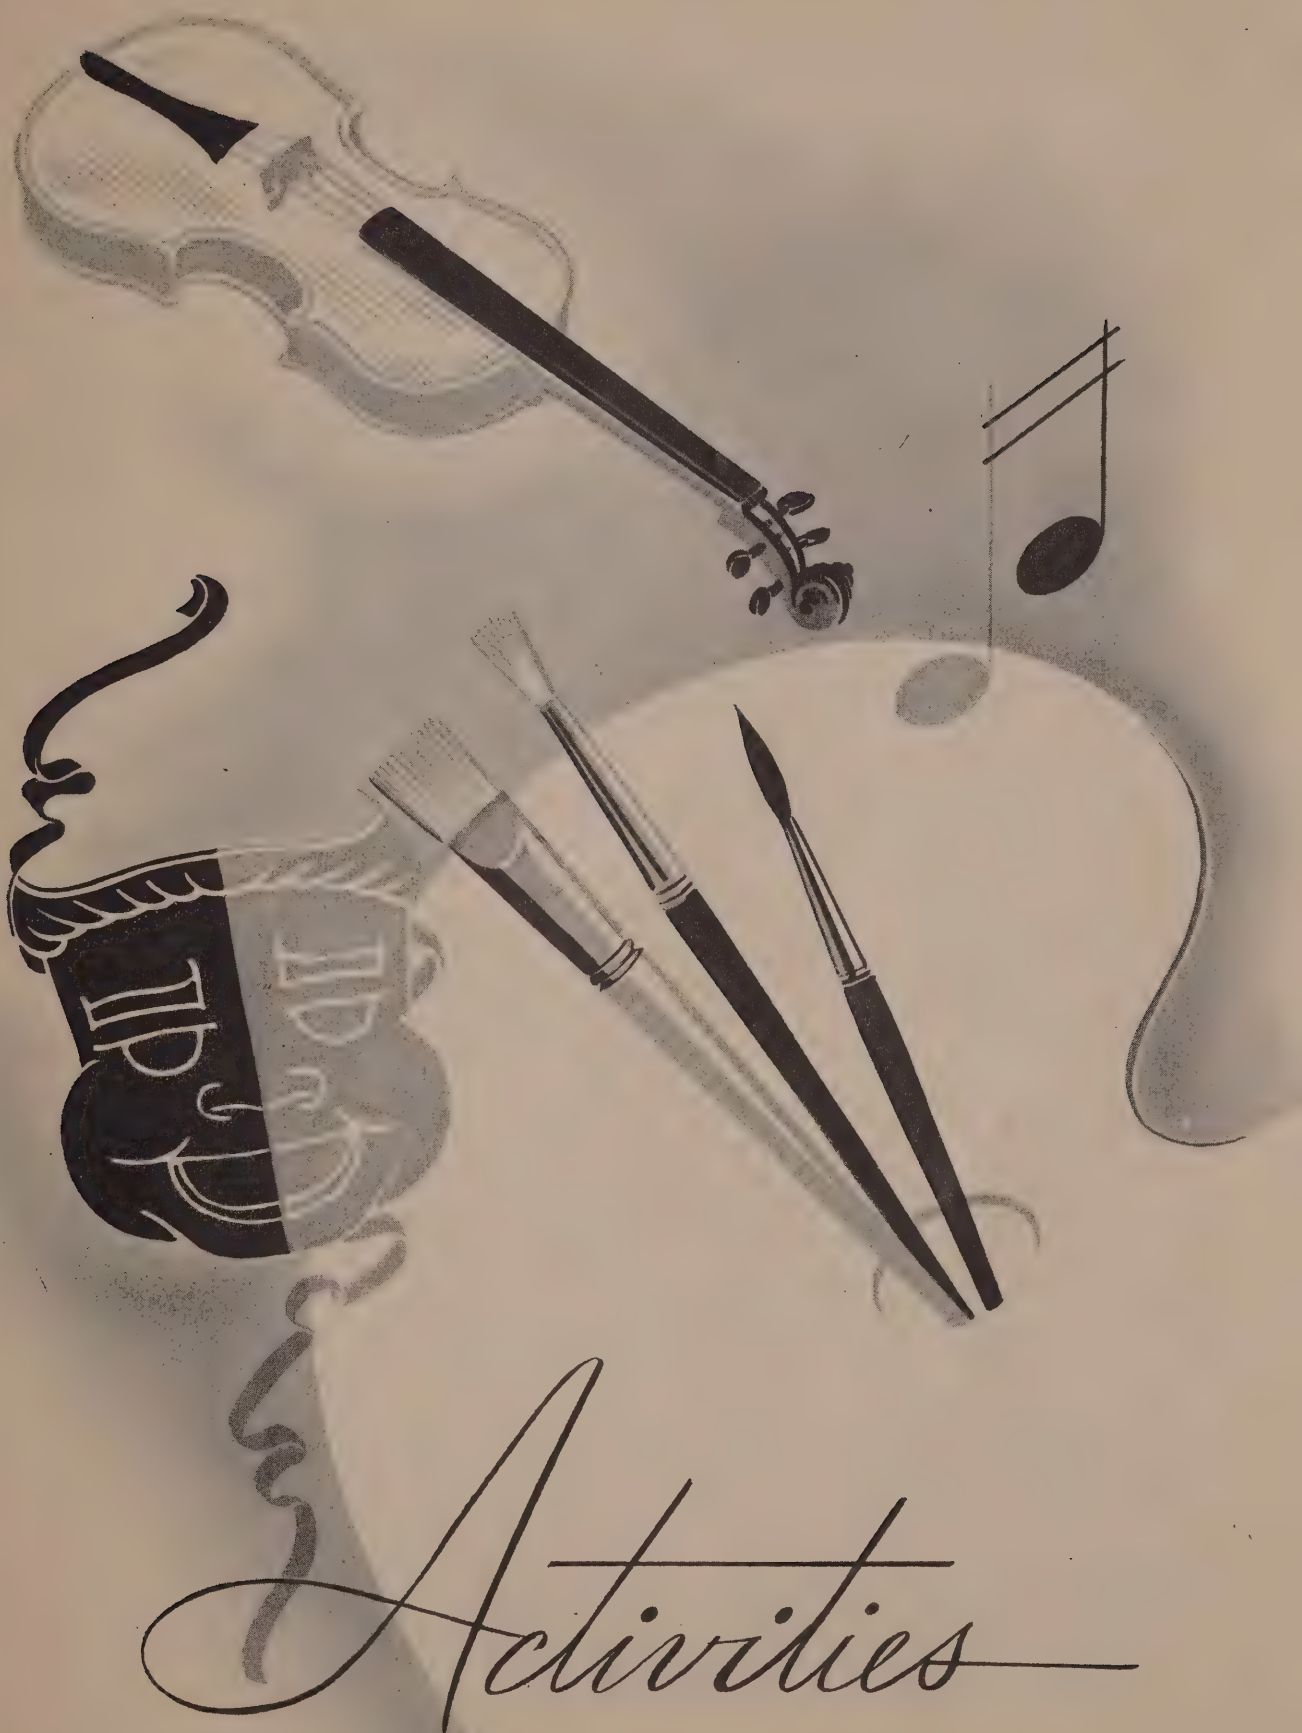

New to Bay High's curricula is the mechanics class, open to all boys who are interested in the study of mechanics as an aid to selecting a vocation or for other practical reasons. Mr. Marlin Magee, instructor, has supervised the building of crystal radio sets, repairing of electrical devices in the school, and wiring of a new lighting system in the book store. His class removed the motor from our P-40 plane for detailed study. The boys recently hooked up the mechanism of a damaged juke box to a portable phonograph, which gives us amplified music for social events.

THE STUDENT ACTIVITY ASSOCIATION

Formed in the fall of 1936, the Student Activity Association, with a membership composed of qualified upperclassmen who are elected at the close of each year, has become one of the most important organizations at Bay High. It has met the need for organized student government caused by a rapidly growing school curriculum and increasing extracurricular activities.

In its first year the Association conducted only one school activity - the annual May Festival. This function has been continued, giving students excellent experience in the holding of elections, scenery construction, and the planning and carrying out of programs.

Since 1936, each year has seen the work of the Association expanded until it now reaches into almost every phase of school life.

The student bookstore, operated by a committee of Activity Association members, makes available for students all necessary class room supplies. Through the bookstore's profits, S.A.A. supports and finances the Debating Society, as well as the Dramatic Club and the high school yearbook.

During the school session of 1945-'46, the Association has supervised and managed the County basketball and State boxing tournaments, and all home boxing matches, football, and basketball games. Selling tickets, distributing programs, conducting the intramural athletic program, and purchasing needed school and sports equipment are all functions of the organization. This year, for the first time in its history, S.A.A. will present sweaters to those seniors qualifying in competitive athletics.

In the near future the Activity Association, after accumulating sufficient funds, expects to achieve its goal of several years' standing - a school bus for transporting Bay High's teams and organizations.

Thus the Student Activity Association has grown and become one of the most vital influences in Bay High. Through its cooperation and support, faculty and students are able to work together to promote a well rounded school life.

MUSIC

By far the most progressive part of Bay High is its music department, consisting of boys' chorus, girls' chorus, and orchestra.

Organized in 1938, the band has added a number of instruments and gained in ability. With the return of Mr. C. F. Rooney in September of last year, after a year's absence, our band stepped from a "C" class to a "B" class. The organization purchased some snappy new uniforms in December and represented Bay Hi in Mardi Gras events. Added to the instruments was a new bassoon. Several band members attended the regional band clinic in Hattiesburg this year.

Mrs. Carl Smith has directed the girls' chorus at Bay High for 15 years. This year the girls went to the clinic at Gulfport, presented their annual Christmas cantata, and sang at field meet in Biloxi. Their work this year has been outstanding. In March, the chorus, with St. Stanislaus's glee club, sang "Panis Angelicus" at a colorful concert presented by the Rotary Club. A massed band of both local high schools accompanied the vocal numbers.

Our orchestra has done commendable work this season. By playing outside engagements, it raised money to help defray the expenses of the band uniforms. We are fortunate to have the group play for our school dances and programs. Bay Hi was the scene of much jive music not long ago when the first annual dance band clinic of the Gulf Coast Association was held here. Our own orchestra made an excellent showing and gained a lot of experience. Luke Sciana, the new vocalist, joined the group in March.
